ACWORTH'S TEEN AUTHOR!

This bright young lady of Acworth is making her mark early; with 2 published books and a third in the works. Ceara Comeau recently met the residents of Acworth at a book signing as they came to the Town Hall to vote on Nov. 4th. Many voters returned at the 3 o'clock hour to meet her and get signed copies of her books. This is exciting and heady stuff for one so young. So we offer this bit of news by Ceara herself....

Hello everyone! I just wanted to bring you up to date as to what I have been doing lately. My book signing on Election Day went very well. In fact it went better than I thought! Then I had an unexpected book signing that same week! It was at the craft fair and that went great as well. So far things have been going smoothly for me and I'm actually now in the process of writing stories for the second volume of Amber Oak! That book should be out by the spring/summer of 2009 and very soon I will have parts of my new stories on my website. I have also had much help from many of my friends who have been willing to help me spread the word about my books by putting up flyers wherever they go. Some of my family are helping as well; including my brother all the way out in California! I must admit I am definitely grateful for my family and friends, for without them I wouldn't be where I am right now.
